Description

This course is offered to students who have completed approximately two semesters of Arabic language study. Students should be comfortable with the Arabic script and sounds, elementary grammar (including sentence structure, gender and plural agreement, tenses and negation) and basic vocabulary.

Driven by the concept of communicative proficiency and the goal of functional competency, the CET Jordan programs treat Arabic language as one system of communication, guiding students to employ the appropriate register to perform a variety of real-life communicative functions. CET's Modern Standard Arabic (MSA) and Jordanian dialect courses focus on their respective registers, however; overlap is encouraged in a way that mirrors the diglossic nature of the Arabic-speaking world.

The course employs a student-centered approach and focuses on communicative competence through the completion of concrete tasks, both in and outside the classroom, including interaction with native Arabic speakers. In order to introduce new vocabulary and increasingly complex grammatical structures, class sessions incorporate appropriate novice to intermediate level elements of written and aural media produced for native speakers. Students practice interactive functional skills such as listening comprehension and conversation strategies, (linguistic and cultural) working to communicate effectively on an increasing range of subjects.

Objectives

Upon successful completion, students:

- Demonstrate command of the Arabic sound and writing systems with pronunciation understandable to natives who are accustomed to interacting with foreigners
- Understand elementary grammatical structures
- Utilize limited vocabulary in simple contexts with proper subject-verb agreement, adjective agreement and tenses
- Compose sentences and short paragraphs related to survival needs and daily life, primarily in the present tense
- Read and comprehend Arabic texts with familiar vocabulary and simple discourse
- Guess with relative success at highly contextualized unfamiliar vocabulary

CET Syllabus of Record

- Understand and participate in conversations about predictable daily life situations and topics of limited complexity
- Progress from the ACTFL Novice level to the Intermediate-Low or Intermediate Mid level

Course Requirements

Students are expected to thoroughly prepare for each class at home and actively participate in each class. All assignments and preparatory work must be completed before class. In-class activities and homework may include listening to audio materials, memorizing new patterns and vocabulary, completing written assignments, reviewing material learned the previous day and activating new vocabulary during class, etc. Attendance and participation are required and considered in the calculation of the final grade. Students are expected to not only read and understand short paragraphs and texts, but also to produce their own short passages and short texts.

Methods of Evaluation

Students are evaluated in the four language areas (speaking, listening, reading and writing) through quizzes, written and oral exams and class participation.

The final grade is determined as follows:

Attendance/Participation: 20%

Homework: 20%

Exams: 20%

Final Oral Interview Exam: 10%

Final Written Exam: 10%

Final Project and Oral Presentation: 20%

All homework assignments are due at the beginning of class and late assignments are not accepted. During the final week, students undergo an oral interview exam covering the depth and breadth of material covered throughout the summer. Individual interviews last approximately 15 minutes. The final written exam is comprehensive and includes all vocabulary and grammatical structures covered during the semester. Each student is required to present a five-minute in-class oral brief on the subject of his/her final project, a written paper of no less than 1000 words.

Primary Texts

CET course pack by Manal Yosef, Director of Arabic Curriculum, including primary source handouts, recordings and videos.

Recommended Texts

A Dictionary of Modern Written Arabic (Arabic-English) Hans Wehr. Ithaca, NY: Spoken Language Services, Inc., 1994.

Pace and Textbook Lessons Covered

The pace of instruction is intensive. In addition to time spent in the classroom, students should expect to spend a minimum of one hour studying on their own for every hour spent in the classroom.
