Description
This course is offered for students who have completed approximately four semesters of Japanese language study, or the CET Intermediate Japanese course. It aims to develop further four language skills building upon the basis of intermediate level. It expands communicative skills to interact with native speakers of Japanese by learning wide range of new grammar, vocabulary and expressions on a variety of social and cultural topics. The main focus is put on developing oral communication skills such as making request, apologizing, complaining, exchanging information as well as expressing feelings and opinions. However, the reading and writing skills are equally emphasized due to the nature of the integrated language course. The goal is to acquire communicative competence through a variety of task activities both within the classroom and in the surrounding environment. It is the actual use of language in the Japanese society that is put strong emphasis in the course, where language is viewed as social and cultural activity.

The course includes:
1.) A series of lessons that target the colloquial, situation-based language needed for adjusting to daily life in Japan. Each lesson involves a series of linguistic/content-focused tutorials, an immersion activity and assignment, and an assessment. These lessons meet during the first week.
2.) A regular textbook-based curriculum.
3.) A module wherein students develop a major interview and survey-based project on one aspect of Japanese society. These course projects are presented orally to faculty, peers, and the local community at an Open House at the end of the term.
4.) One-on-one lessons

Objectives
By the end of this course, students are able to:
- Read, write, and use at least 800 kanji in a variety of contexts.
- Communicate with Japanese native speakers naturally in a variety of social contexts.
- Understand hidden messages or background information by reading texts written for Japanese native speakers and be able to exchange opinions on a wide range of topics in various situations.
- Have a strong familiarity with Japanese daily life and culture.
- Attempt the Japanese Language Proficiency Test level N3.

Course Requirements
Active Participation is essential in this course. Students are expected to attend each class and field-based course component, as outlined in the CET attendance policy. Students are expected to read all assigned materials before the relevant class session and come prepared to participate thoughtfully in class discussions. Graded assignments include:

- Homework: Multiple homework assignments are provided for each chapter and additional self-review is expected. Students are expected to submit homework at the beginning of class.
- Quizzes: At the beginning of each Grammar/Conversation class, a short grammar quiz is given. It is not graded but included in class performance/participation points. Vocabulary and Kanji quizzes are given as scheduled and graded.
- Tests/Examinations: Students take three written tests, there is one test every three chapters. The final examination is on the last day of the semester.
- Project: Each semester a student is assigned a one-month long project. Students are assigned a topic about American or Japanese culture and must present the topic in Japanese to Japanese people. The final product is presented orally in Japanese; first, in speech format in class, and second, a poster session format at the two-hour open house.
