Program: Intensive Japanese Language and Culture Studies in Osaka

Course Code/Title: (OS / LANG 103) / Beginning Japanese

Total Hours: 70

Recommended Credits: 4

Primary Discipline: Japanese Language

Language of Instruction: Japanese

Prerequisites/Requirements: None

Description

This course is designed for students who have little or no prior Japanese language learning. It provides students a solid foundation in Japanese basic grammar and vocabulary to pursue further language study. It is an integrated language course, focusing on both formal and informal, written and spoken language with various listening, speaking, reading and writing exercises. The goal of the course is to acquire communicative competence through a variety of concrete tasks both in the classroom and outside-of the classroom. Conversational use of language in Japanese society is the main emphasis of the course, where language is viewed as social and cultural activity. The course includes:

The course includes:

- 1.) A series of lessons that target the colloquial, situation-based language used in Japan and Osaka. Lessons include native-speaking guests and focus both of topics not in the textbook as well as reinforcing previously learned material.
- 2.) A regular textbook-based curriculum.

Objectives

By the end of the course students are able to:

- Accomplish a limited number of predictable communicative tasks, particularly on topics relevant to their own experience.
- Become familiar with Japanese culture to some extent, and have everyday social interactions with Japanese native speakers.

Course Requirements

Active participation both in synchronous and asynchronous course components is essential in this course, and attendance is required. Details for attendance expectations are outlined in the term syllabus. Students are expected to read and watch all assigned materials before each synchronous class session, respond to the asynchronous materials as assigned, and come prepared to participate thoughtfully in class discussions. Quality of synchronous and asynchronous engagement counts towards the participation grade. Other graded course components include:
